

Riding + writing

COLORADO, USA

June 22-25, 2018

riding + writing

If you've got a story you're working on or have been aching to tell, this is the trip for you. Our popular Colorado Riding + Writing retreat combines an incredible non-fiction, memoir + poetry workshop (tailored to your individualized needs) with some of Colorado's best offerings: horseback riding in the Rocky Mountains and whitewater rafting.

Join us as we tap into our creative side, let that energy flow onto the page and hone our craft in this fun-filled three day adventure.

day 1: June 22nd

Arrive to Denver International Airport. Transfer to accommodation. Later in the evening, enjoy a city tour before dinner.

day 2: June 23rd

Creative writing workshop with writing expert. Work on developing your voice, finding your story, and getting words onto paper for four hours in the morning. After that, enjoy a picnic lunch before we take off to go whitewater rafting, stopping in the Red Rocks for sunset on the way back.

day 3: June 24st

2 hour workshop in the morning to continue the progress we've made. Short break for yoga and picnic lunch, before driving to Estes Park to ride horses in the Rocky Mountains. Cap off the day with a cocktail at the Stanley Hotel, made famous by the movie The Shining, before we return to Denver. That evening, take the opportunity to ask your workshop leader for more one-on-one advice, or just sit back and relax.

Airport transfers will begin later that evening and early the following morning. It's your choice if you'd like to depart Sunday eve or Monday.
